Deutsche Bank announces public tender offer for four US dollar senior non-preferred bonds

Deutsche Bank (XETRA: DBKGn.DE/NYSE: DB) announces a public tender offer for four US dollar-denominated senior non-preferred securities. The target acceptance volume of the tender is 1.0 billion US dollars.

The public tender offer is designed to proactively manage Deutsche Bank's debt maturity profile and to provide liquidity to current bond holders.

The tender offer encompasses the following US dollar-denominated senior non-preferred securities issued by Deutsche Bank from 2020 to 2022:

3.035% May 2032	(ISIN: US251526CK32)
2.552% January 2028	(ISIN: US25160PAH01)
2.311% November 2027	(ISIN: US251526CP29)
2.129% November 2026	(ISIN: US251526CE71)

The offer is expected to expire on Wednesday, 24 August 2022 with an early participation deadline on Wednesday, 10 August 2022.

Information is available on Deutsche Bank's Investor Relations website under <https://www.db.com/ir> or by contacting +49 800 910-8000.

Requests for the Offer to Purchase may be directed to the Tender Agent: Global Bondholder Services Corporation (phone: +1 855 654 2015 or +1 212 430 3774, email: contact@gbsc-usa.com, website: <https://gbsc-usa.com/registration/db>)

No offer or invitation to acquire any securities is being made pursuant to this announcement. The offer is being made pursuant to an Offer to Purchase dated 28 July 2022 (the "Offer to Purchase"). About Deutsche Bank

Deutsche Bank provides retail and private banking, corporate and transaction banking, lending, asset and wealth management products and services as well as focused investment banking to private individuals, small and medium-sized companies, corporations, governments and institutional investors. Deutsche Bank is the leading bank in Germany with strong European roots and a global network.

This release contains forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are statements that are not historical facts; they include statements about our beliefs and expectations and the assumptions underlying them. These statements are based on plans, estimates and projections as they are currently available to the management of Deutsche Bank. Forward-looking statements therefore speak only as of the date they are made, and we undertake no obligation to update publicly any of them in light of new information or future events.

By their very nature, forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties. A number of important factors could therefore cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement. Such factors include the conditions in the financial markets in Germany, in Europe, in the United States and elsewhere from which we derive a substantial portion of our revenues and in which we hold a substantial portion of our assets, the development of asset prices and market volatility, potential defaults of borrowers or trading counterparties, the implementation of our strategic initiatives, the reliability of our risk management policies, procedures and methods, and other risks referenced in our filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. Such factors are described in detail in our SEC Form 20-F of 11 March 2022 under the heading "Risk Factors". Copies of this document are readily available upon request or can be downloaded from www.db.com/ir.
